AP Environmental Science

AP Environmental students learned about terrestrial biomes this past week, including the desert, rainforest, tundra, and more. They researched average temperature and precipitation, locations across the globe, as well as the plants and animals that call these biomes home. Then each student personified their biome and presented their research to the class.

PEP Club- Prayer Empowering People

On Wednesday mornings from 8:00-8:15, a special prayer time is held with the students. PEP Clubs meet in small groups led by an adult leader (staff, parent, or high school student). Boys and girls from grades 3-12 are grouped separately, often with a mixture of ages. Students in grades K, 1 and 2 will meet in their class for prayer. PEP Clubs are a time to get to know school mates, but most importantly encourage one another and to pray together.

See You at the Pole!

See You at the Pole is about praying together for our school, city, state, country and the world. It is pretty profound to think about being a part of praying in unity with those in our own city, state, and country, as well as those all around the world! This awesome event was started by STUDENTS a long time ago in Texas and has grown into an event that happens annually all over the world. Our very own senior students led us this week!
